	Slippers. For pool, beach or desert
	A Comb or hairbrush
	Passport containing embarkation card, Air ticket, and a pen all in docket in pocket or in a dedicated cabin baggage side-pocket. Do not put any valuables or cash in your checkin (hold) luggage
	Train tickets and timetable, Hotel Vouchers and booking references separately, if applicable
	Handkerchiefs same colour scheme
	Wallet (do not carry it in your rear hip pocket in public. Not every city is Singapore or Zürich)
	A suitable international PLUS/Cirrus ATM card; debit card or credit card hybrid
	Cash (i.e. destination currency, if possible), not exceeding USD5,000 or equivalent

	Travel Insurance
	Jacket and Neckties for formal occasions
	One small portable umbrella per person
	A large compressed laundry bag for used clothes, on longer trips

For Ladies - leisure (in addition to the above)

	Your purse and general purpose handbag
	Essential toiletries and a small makeup kit including a hand-mirror
	Browse the web for the dress codes of your destination. In most places it's better to be more formally dressed (say, in a jacket) than to be too casual. Conservativeness is also safer in the Middle East, where skirt lengths to the knee rather than bare legs are advisable
	A formal pair of shoes with a small heel would do for an evening out as well as a hotel with a dress code. A second, flat and comfortable slip-on pair is ideal for casual/exercise or travelling

For Ladies and Gents – Business

	Notebook computer/Laptop/Tablet/Device
	Neckties or bows and lounge suit or other formal wear as appropriate for the destination
	Visiting cards and your business documents
